

The Ovington Oracle

April, 2026

Sorry if your Oracle is a little late this month, we had a sycamore tree come down in the winds of 24/25 March and I've been somewhat distracted while I clear it up! The job still not completed as I print The Ovington Oracles.

Solar News:

Full moon is 2 April (at 3:11am). Native Northern Americans call April's full moon the "Pink Moon" after a species of early blooming wildflower.

April is often a good time to see earthshine a phenomenon a few days either side of a new moon (17 April) where the unlit portion of the moon is faintly illuminated by light reflected from the earth.

The Lyrid Meteor Shower is usually most active around April 22 or 23 with a meteor every 3 minutes or so.

Litter Pick Report

Timothy Birt

Saturday 21 March was perfect for a litter pick, sunny but not too warm. After a safety briefing we posed for a photo at the village sign.

While most started at the village sign spreading out in all directions, a smaller contingent started from North Ovington clearing the litter strewn ditches adjacent the trod. The total collected was less than previous years, in no small part because some villagers are out regularly litter picking on their own – it really makes a noticeable difference, thank you.

Afterwards we met at the village hall for a most wonderful spread including two varieties of hot soup & bread, and mountains of pies, sausage rolls, etc, etc. and then there was cake and lots of it!

Thanks to all who took part in both the litter pick and the production of such a feast afterwards.

Rainfall

Tim

February 2026 rainfall total: 69.1mm (2 ³/₄").

As of 25 March the monthly running total is just 16mm, but some rain is forecast before the end of the month.

Spring is well established with some pleasant sunny days – hopefully, I'm not tempting fate to bite back by mentioning it?

Village Hall (VH)

Mike Howes (Village Hall Trustee)

Report Curry Night (28 February)

A fully booked evening. Everybody who attended had a great time. We were spoilt with a selection of 7 delicious curries, as much as you could eat!

If that was not enough our ladies excelled themselves with a delicious selection of sweets, including banoffee pie, key lime pie, fruit salad, and tiramisu to name but a few.

Many thanks go to Stewart our master chef, Christine for all her organisation skills and everybody else who contributed to making such a great event. We also had a quiz.

Report AGM & Election of Committee (Wednesday 4 March)

Seven committee nominations had been received but as the Constitution only allows for five elected members a ballot was held and conducted by our Parish Councillor Tim Birt. Those elected were later assigned their roles within the committee as follows:

Chairman – Dave Welsted,
Treasurer – Richard Moss,
Secretary – Rosemary Jones,
Hall Bookings & Website/Oracle – Mike Howes,
Publicity – Kaz Mason.

The Committee then co-opted two further members:

Maintenance – Stuart Burgess and "No special Portfolio" – David Lloyd.

The Treasurer reported that financially 2025 had been a good year with Hall hire increased by £1,225 and at year end there was a total surplus of £4,351; this helps to offset last year's high building maintenance costs.

The new committee of seven look forward to serving Ovington residents and friends and have a list of events for the coming year.

We would like to thank all those who continue to help in the running of the hall.

Forthcoming Events:

Calling all Bookworms – Saturday 18 April 10:00-4:00pm.

Bookworm bookstalls are coming to Ovington where they are holding a second hand bookstall.

Prices from 25p, refreshments served all day.

Afternoon Tea – Sunday 17 May.

This is always a very popular event and tickets will be sold very quickly. Gluten free and vegetarian options available.

Tickets from Kaz, adults: £15 and children under 10: £10

Ovington is Going Country – Saturday 11 July at 12:30pm.

Back by popular demand we welcome again 'The Flying Line Dancers'. Last year was great fun and enjoyed by all. Get dressed up!

£10 per person to include food, but bring your own bottle.

An Evening of Mediumship with Jon Julian – 5 Oct 7:00 for 7:30pm

Book early so as to avoid disappointment.

£10 per person paid in advance. Tickets from Kaz: 07880435765

Should be an interesting evening.

We are now in the season of Easter. The English term may derive from the Anglo-Saxon goddess name Ēostre; Easter is linked to the Jewish Passover. According to the synoptic Gospels, both the crucifixion and the resurrection took place during the week of Passover. In most European languages, both the Christian Easter and the Jewish Passover are called by the same name; and in the older English translations of the Bible, as well, the term Easter was used to translate Passover.

Easter traditions vary across the Christian world, and include sunrise services or late-night vigils, exclamations and exchanges of Paschal greetings, flowering the cross, the wearing of Easter bonnets by women, and the decoration and the communal breaking of Easter eggs (a symbol of the empty tomb). The Easter lily, a symbol of the resurrection in Western Christianity, traditionally decorates the chancel area of churches on this day and for the rest of Eastertide. Additional customs that have become associated with Easter and are observed by both Christians and some non-Christians include the Easter Bunny and egg hunting.

When Jeremy and I moved from Ovington the Easter Bunny moved with us. However, if children come along to the Easter Service in Ovington church I am sure that there will be an Easter egg available for each child.

With love in Christ,

Jean (07749 870485)

Enquirers' Group

Revd Patrick Morrow

"I used to go to church, but ...

... then I fell out with God;

... then life took over, and I felt I couldn't find the time;

... then I couldn't make sense of it – I mean: look at the world!"

I've been your priest-in-charge for over a year now. The villages are friendly, no question about it. I am used to spontaneous conversations as I walk down the road. These are often about the weather, as is right and proper. But messages like those above have been a distinctive feature. It has been striking how quickly people have cut to the heart of things, and spoken of their spiritual pasts and presents.

You won't find me – ever – standing on any street corner and shouting out Bible verses. Even if you come to Church, I won't set out to persuade you to believe what I believe. There is a line in 2 Corinthians which always moves me (2 Cor 1.24). I know it best in a German translation, because I read that Pope Benedict XVI quoted it, way back when he was first made priest. It says: "We are not masters of your faith, but servants of your joy." I see my priestly role in that way.

In that same spirit, it does seem to me that there may be people in the villages who'd be up for a meeting to talk through, say, the things that really irritate them about God, and/or the credibility of the Christian story, and/or, well, how to find sustaining hope and meaning.

You'll have guessed I am asking if this is you. Would you like to at least have a taste of an Enquirers' Group? It would be a chance to have an unpressured and open-ended discussion, with plenty of refreshments. I promise no expectations that you'll end up a committed churchgoer. I may hope that your perspective - and the perspectives of the Christians among us, and not least me - will be enriched by the encounter.

I am not at the stage of having a date, time, or location yet. I imagine it being a "course" of six or so sessions initially, and then, let's see. If this is something you'd like to explore, please let me know.

And Finally

Tim

"Spring" in the sense of the season comes from phrases such as "springing time" (14th century) and "the spring of the year".

The word is derived from an antiquated noun meaning "act or time of springing or appearing; the first appearance; the beginning, birth, rise, or origin".

Spring as a word in general appeared via the Middle English springen, via the Old English springan. These were verbs meaning to rise up or to burst forth but are not believed to have originally related to the season.
